

May 2025 Prayer Guide

Monday prayer points: Scholars

One of the key parts of the Langham Scholars programme is the focus on pastoral and spiritual care during a Scholars' studies. As such, each current Langham Scholar is assigned a 'Scholar Care Coordinator' in their region of study, who visits, calls and prays for them. Liz and Malcolm McGregor, based in Edinburgh, have been Scholar Care Coordinators for a number of years and are retiring next month.

- Give thanks to God for Liz and Malcolm's faithful service.
- Praise God for the positive impact they have had on so many Scholars, who are now serving God in their home countries.
- Pray that Liz and Malcolm will know God's peace and blessing in their retirement.
- Please pray that a suitable replacement will be found to continue this vital work.

Tuesday prayer points: Preaching

- Praise God for preachers in Bolivia, who went to great lengths to attend training in November during a time of national turmoil and political unrest.
- Pray for all who attended, as they focused on preaching the Psalms, that they will encourage and enthuse their own Preaching Clubs and develop their preaching skills.
- Pray for Mayukha Perera, Langham Preaching's Regional Coordinator for South Asia, who is based in Sri Lanka. Pray that God will give much grace, patience and energy to Mayukha as he oversees a great many Preaching Movements across a huge region!
- Last month, preaching training for over 40 people took place in a Zulu-speaking region of South Africa, called Umlazi. Pray especially for those who attended Langham training for the first time, that they will use the new skills they have learned in their churches.
- Please pray for Andy Oatridge, as he begins his role as coordinator for Europe and the Caribbean soon. Pray for Andy as he adjusts to the new responsibilities and gets to know the wider team.

Wednesday prayer points: Literature

- Last month, Langham Publishing celebrated the release of its 500th book! Praise God for the impact that all these books have had and continue to have across the world.
- 'Preaching the Parables' is the 500th book mentioned above – pray that this highly practical book will be used and appreciated by many preachers in different contexts.

- Pray for Rico Villanueva, Langham Literature's Commissioning Editor for Asia, as he seeks out new books to be published that will benefit believers across the continent.
- Give thanks to God that Rico appeared on a podcast recently talking about the lament Psalms. Pray that many will be encouraged by listening to this interview.

Thursday prayer points: International

This month in the UK, important annual meetings of Langham's international leaders are taking place (Langham Partnership International Council).

- Please pray for the logistics of these highly strategic meetings, especially for smooth and safe travel into the UK.
- Pray for unity among all involved and as important decisions are made.
- Pray for God's will for Langham to be done in all its ministries around the world.
- Pray particularly for Jill McGilvray, from Australia, as she chairs the meeting of the Langham Partnership International Council.

Friday prayer points: UK and Ireland

- Praise God for our brother in Christ who spoke on our Langham Live call last month (the call could not be recorded for security reasons). Pray for him as he serves God in a country facing great pressure but huge potential.
- Pray for the launch of the new study resource 'Understanding Mission' (written by our Global Ambassador Rev Dr Chris Wright), which is taking place next month. Pray that it will inform and encourage church leaders across the UK and Ireland.
- This month, LPUKI has a stand at a conference for Assemblies of God leaders. Pray that many will hear about Langham for the first time and start supporting our work.
- Give thanks to God for Helen Hamilton, LPUKI's Chief Finance Officer, and her dedication to the role. Pray for God's help in the many tasks she undertakes.

Saturday & Sunday prayer points

Langham relies on the generous financial support of individuals around the world (by the grace of God!)

- Praise God for the six national executives (UKI, Australia, New Zealand, USA, Canada, Hong Kong) which fundraise for Langham's frontline work.
- Please pray that more young adults will hear about Langham and partner with us in equipping the next generation of Bible teachers around the world.
- Pray for work that has started to establish new fundraising teams in Europe and elsewhere. Pray that this will result in the furtherance of God's Kingdom.
